Values Exercise

Opportunity for Transformation

Above are about 400 Values to help stimulate your mind.

Print out these pages, grab your favorite highlighter and get started. I recommend doing a little centering process first. Close your eyes, take some deep breaths, focus your energy on your heart and relax.

Then, using your highlighter go through this list illuminating anything that really resonates with you. I think when doing this exercise there are a couple of ways to approach it.

Approach A – What are the values that you live by? Who are you? What motivates you?

Approach B – What are the values you desire to have in your life? What do you want to create more of?

I recommend going through the list with a highlighter and not judging what comes forward.

What are you drawn to? What is true for you? Highlight all of these.

Then visit with the highlights and perhaps select the ones that have the most energy for you and that really ring true to who you are. Transfer these top 10 or top 20 words to a list in your journal.

Own them. Let them resonate with you as part of who you are. Let them guide your decision making going forward.

Most of all – have fun with this. This is your life after all and you are creating it – whether you realize it or not. We are either creating by design or by default and its up to each of us to make that choice. When we place our intentional focus on something, that is a way we communicate with the universe what we want to experience.

Participating in this activity is a great way to spend time with yourself, getting to know the real you beneath all the patterning.

What feels alive in your heart?
